Team member fundraising on Givebutter is what's often referred to as "peer-to-peer fundraising" by folks in the nonprofit industry. Team members can receive credit for donations by sharing their custom link, and any donations made will automatically be credited to them. Without using the link, donors still also have the option to assign a donation to a specific team member, to ensure credit goes to the correct party.

If you are looking to donate to a campaign, click the Donate button in the upper right corner of the campaign page. You do not need to join a campaign to donate!

Team members are not admins, and do not have campaign edit access. If you need to be added as an admin or editor, please contact an existing admin.

Ways to join a campaign as a team member

- Receive an email invitation from the campaign organizers
- Follow a direct link shared by the campaign organizers

- Click the Fundraise button on the main campaign page

The screenshot shows a campaign page for "2022 FOOD FOR ALL BENEFIT AUCTION" organized by "Butter World". The page features a banner with various vegetables. Below the banner, it indicates the campaign is organized by "Butter World" with a "Live Display" button and a "Verified" badge. The current amount raised is "$577" with "8 Supporters", and a progress bar shows "1% of $100,000 goal". A "Team Members" section states "No team members yet, be the first!". A red arrow points to a "Fundraise" button.

If the campaign you'd like to join doesn't have a Fundraise button, you'll need to join the campaign via an email invite or a direct link shared by the organizer. Please contact the organization operating the campaign – Givebutter staff are not able to add you to a campaign on behalf of the organization.

Creating a member profile

- Once you click the Fundraise button or link to join a campaign via a direct link, you'll be asked to create a Givebutter login. If you already have one, click Sign in at the bottom of the pop-up window instead of entering new information.

Creating multiple team member logins

If you need to sign up for multiple team member profiles on behalf of others (most often in the case of a parent needing to sign up for multiple children), you'll notice that you can only use a single email address to sign up for one team member profile. There are two ways around this.

Using multiple email addresses

If you have access to multiple email addresses (such as work and personal, or parent 1 and parent 2, etc.) this can be a simple option for signing up on behalf of multiple team members.

Using the same email address

To sign up for multiple team member profiles using the same email, try this trick!

- First profile – use your email address as normal, ie. example@gmail.com
- Second profile – add "+1" before the @ symbol, ie. example+1@gmail.com
- Third profile – add "+2" before the @ symbol, ie. example+2@gmail.com

Emails sent to example+1@gmail.com and example+2@gmail.com will all go to the parent email address of example@gmail.com.

You can also use words instead of numbers after the "+". For example, example+henry@gmail.com and example+jen@gmail.com will both forward emails to example@gmail.com.

Please note that this works for Gmail addresses but may not work with other email providers. Test at your own discretion!

Using this "+1" trick allows you to register the same email address multiple times, as our system recognizes them as separate logins.
